Ad Agnone la Summer School dell'Unimol sui mercati finanziari

Da lunedì prossimo attesi laureati, dottorandi e studiosi per partecipare a un evento di alta formazione universitaria

AGNONE. Laureati, dottorandi, ricercatori e giovani studiosi da tutta Italia, dall'Europa e dall'India arriveranno ad Agnone per partecipare alla Summer School Internazionale di Unimol, un evento di alta formazione universitaria e pensato per quanti intendano integrare i propri studi e le proprie ricerche nell'ambito dei mercati finanziari. Da lunedì prossimo e fino al 13 luglio, nella prestigiosa sede di palazzo San Francesco, insieme Università degli Studi del Molise - Dipartimento di economia, Capital Markets Cooperative Research Centre di Sydney (Australia), la Fondazione European Capital Markets Cooperative Research Centre e l'University of Wollongong - New South Wales - Australia. Organizzata con il patrocinio e il supporto del Comune di Agnone, la International Summer School on Empirical Methods in Market Microstructure Research si caratterizza per l'autorevolezza e l'alto valore scientifico dei relatori, tra i più eminenti studiosi in materia di mercati finanziari.

La formazione, le lezioni, i corsi, i dibattiti - organizzati in collaborazione con il Capital Markets Cooperative Research Centre (Sydney, Australia) e con la fondazione European Capital Markets Cooperative Research Centre - saranno interamente in lingua inglese. Specificatamente tecnico l'argomento centrale della alta formazione accademica, ma al contempo anche molto attuale: infatti, l'oggetto della Summer School è la ricerca nell'ambito della microstruttura dei mercati finanziari che esamina l'impatto della regolamentazione e della struttura dei mercati sulla qualità e l'efficienza dei mercati stessi. Le discipline oggetto dei corsi studiano in particolare i modi in cui la struttura e il funzionamento dei mercati influiscono sulle determinanti dei costi di transazione, dei prezzi, dei volumi scambiati e dei comportamenti negli scambi. I docenti della Summer School provengono da Unimol, dall'Università di Wollongong (Australia) e dal Capital Markets Cooperative Research Centre (Sydney, Australia). L'Università di Wollongong è una delle principali università australiane ed è classificata nel "top 2%" delle università più prestigiose al mondo. Il Capital Markets Cooperative Research Centre è la più importante organizzazione australiana di ricerca e sviluppo nei temi della qualità e dell'efficienza dei mercati e collabora con importanti università e istituzioni di ricerca in Europa, Stati Uniti, Canada, Singapore e Hong Kong.
